FOR RELEASE:

ADVANCE FOR THURSDAY MORNING NEWSPAPERS, JULY 31,
NOT TO BE USED BY PRESS, RADIO, OR TV BEFORE
6:30 P.M., EDT, WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 1975

Twenty-seven Federal employees have been selected by the Civil Service Commission to take part in the Fellowship in Congressional Operations program for 1975-1976.

The Commission and the American Political Science Association jointly administer the program. Earlier the APSA had selected 8 political scientists and journalists along with six Robert Wood Johnson Health Policy Fellows. Asian Fellows will be selected at a later date.

The objective of the program is to give carefully selected Federal employees, journalists, political scientists, and educators a thorough understanding of congressional operations.

A comprehensive orientation will be conducted by the American Political Science Association to prepare Fellows for work assignments with Representatives, Senators, and congressional committees. Weekly seminar meetings with Members of Congress and authorities on government will be conducted throughout the Fellowship year.

The Federal participants are: Sarah Ruth Anderson, United States Information Agency; Ronald L. Cheney, Securities and Exchange Commission; Geryld B. Christianson, Department of State; Daniel B. Davis, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare; Joseph R. Esquibel, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission; Thomas J. Dear Mr. Rodriguez:

It is a pleasure for me to inform you that your agency's nominees, [REDACTED] have been selected as Foreign Affairs Fellows for the 1975-1976 Fellowship in Congressional Operations Program.

The agencies nominated very deserving candidates again this year. More than sixty candidates were nominated, and competition for the limited number of spaces was very keen. The fact that the candidates were so well-qualified means that another outstanding group of Federal employees will participate with political scientists, journalists, and Asian Fellows in the regular program conducted by the American Political Science Association. Your agency's selectees will also participate in the seminar which will be specially designed for the Foreign Affairs Fellows.

Dr. Thomas V. Garcia, from the Bureau's General Management Training Center staff, directs the program for the Commission. He will contact Mr. [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] in the next few weeks regarding details of the Fellowship in Congressional Operations.

Sincerely yours,

James R. Beck, Jr.
Director
Bureau of Training
